ALAN HUTTO MEMORIAL COMMONS DEDICATED

The sun was not the only source of brightness in Cherry Hills Village on the first day of August. Frank and Holly Hutto, the parents of Alan Hutto, were smiling broadly as their son was memorialized at the dedication of the Alan Hutto Memorial Commons in the heart of Cherry Hills Village.

A City-sponsored ceremony was conducted to acknowledge the gift of Frank and Holly Hutto and Peter and Linda Niederman of a two and a half acre parcel immediately south of the new Joint Public Safety Facility. The property, with an assessed valuation in excess of $1.5 Million was acquired by the City for a contract sale price of just $100,000. Not since 1961, when John Meade sold four acres to the Village for $20,000, has the City taken

MARIJUANA CULTIVATION IN/AT CHV RESIDENCES

On July 16, 2013, the Cherry Hills Village City Council passed an ordinance that regulates the cultivation of marijuana in residential structures. Recent amendments to the State Constitution legalized the possession, use, cultivation and sale of small amounts of marijuana. Neither of the two constitutional amendments addresses the specific manner in which a patient, caregiver or person 21 years or older may produce and cultivate marijuana in a private residence.

The ordinance adopted by the City Council, which is effective as of August 4, 2013, addresses the issue of residential cultivation. The purpose of the ordinance is to recognize the State constitutional right to possess marijuana while protecting the health and safety of the Village community. The main components of the ordinance are as follows:

- Cultivation is allowed only in a primary residence or accessory structure to the primary residence.
- Cultivation by an occupant of a residence not owned by the occupant requires the written consent of the property owner.
- Cultivation must be in a fully enclosed and secured space.
- Cultivation, processing and the storage and maintenance of all associated materials and equipment are limited to 150 square feet of contiguous space.
- Cultivation in an accessory structure must be set back a minimum of 10 feet from any detached single family dwelling.

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Mayor Doug Tisdale

“No Man is an Island” ... KCHV-TV ... Public Works ... Commission Activities

GLOBAL AND REGIONAL OUTREACH — WHY DO WE CARE?

It's no secret that your Mayor has been very busy working hard at enhancing the profile of Cherry Hills Village in the Denver Metro Region, the State of Colorado and around the globe. Whether working with the Denver Regional Council of Governments, the Metro Mayors Caucus, the South Metro Mayors Munch Group, the Colorado Municipal League, Denver Mayor Hancock's Office, Greenwood Village Mayor Rakowsky's Office, Sister Cities International, The Wall Street Journal, Comcast, the National League of Cities or any of the other groups that impact Cherry Hills Village, we are demonstrating that our Village is a community meaningfully engaged with the rest of the region and with the entire world.

Why?

Because every time that a company locates or expands in the Denver region, Cherry Hills Village benefits directly. We have the benefit of new or expanded opportunities for economic growth and leadership for our residents. We have the benefit of new goods and services available to our residents.

And we have the benefit of increased market demand for our extremely valuable developed real estate. The staff and employees of these new companies will want to locate near those companies. They will be able to afford homes in Centennial or Littleton or Englewood or Greenwood Village. But the owners and the CEOs and the COOs and the CFOs — all of the occupants of the C-suites at these companies — will want to live in Cherry Hills Village, the number one best suburb of America to live in!

With record low supply/inventory in the luxury home market, demand continues to increase. Prices are up almost 6% from a year ago. Days on market are down. Percent of asking price is up. This is all good news for Villagers. For many people, the equity in their homes represents a sizable portion of their net worth. Any steps that your local government can take to protect, and to improve, that equity are beneficial.

So the next time you see a full page story in The Wall Street Journal about Cherry Hills Village (as we enjoyed a couple of months ago) or hear about efforts to make the Denver Region a destination for people from all over the planet, know that your Mayor and the entire city government are working hard to bring that about, raising the profile of Cherry Hills Village in order to provide direct benefits to you, our residents. “Therefore never send to ask for whom the bell tolls.”

KCHV-TV UPDATE

Soon after you receive this edition of The Crier, you will be able to see our exciting reformatted governmental cable channel on your Comcast cable connection. A “beta-version” KCHV-TV (Comcast cable channel 22) is now being launched. The first “content” on our channel will be the winners and the honorable mentions from the Mayor's Competition for Student-Produced Videos celebrating the beauty, history, legacy and value of the High Line Canal Trail. These videos will be run on a continuous loop during the “primetime” hours for the next several weeks to allow broad exposure. In addition, we will be adding programmatic content regularly, including the Mayor's “Comcast Newsmakers” interviews and his joint appearance with Greenwood Village Mayor Ron Rakowsky on the Greenwood Village Mayor's Show. Special Village events will also be featured on KCHV-TV. We are requesting Cherry Hills Elementary, Kent Denver School, St. Mary's Academy, Cherry Creek High School and West Middle School to submit their plays, concerts and athletic events for broadcast on KCHV-TV. This is YOUR government cable channel and we want to be responsive to YOU, so if you have additional ideas, please share them with us!

PUBLIC WORKS UPDATE — PHASE II IS ON TRACK!

In 2006 your Council appointed the Citizen's City Center Committee to re-evaluate the City Center Area, the viability of new City buildings and to plan the City's portion of the Meade Lane Area. In 2007 the CCCC (consisting of Councilors Roswell and Stewart, along with Alex Brown, Bill Cook, David Cooper and Richard Diecidue) recommended that your Council “move as quickly and expeditiously as possible to replace the existing Village Center with new, energy efficient and functional facilities so that the citizens of the Village may continue to receive the level of services they have come to expect.” The CCCC's report, which was informed by the work of the Blue Ribbon Panel, identified a three-prong necessity for the Village: Phase I—create a joint public safety facility for the CHV Police Department and South Metro Fire & Rescue Authority to occupy; Phase II—reconfigure and partially relocate the Public Works Department; and Phase III—replace the existing 50-year-old Village Center Administration Building (it was dedicated in October 1963).

Phase I was completed this year, with the new JPSF that opened in January. Phase II has now begun, with issues/visioning / planning meetings going on throughout the Village with input by all residents and staff. Council anticipates addressing these matters by January 2014. Your participation in this process is encouraged and welcome.

MOSQUITOS! NOT JUST A PESKY NUISANCE

by Fredrick Abrams, MD

We used to think of them only as pesky nuisances causing itchy bumps, but now we've learned they carry West Nile Virus, a serious disease - and we've had our first Colorado cases already. From July through September we're at risk of a disease for which there is no cure, and it's spread primarily by mosquito bites. Last year in Dallas, after an unusually warm winter (just as we've had this year in Colorado), there was a serious epidemic with many lives lost and other victims with resulting paralysis. Because there is no specific cure, prevention is the most important action and that includes defending against breeding sites for the mosquitos. Standing water in large sites such as ponds or ditches with little flow of water, and even small sites such as ornamental birdbaths or flower pots can be a place where mosquitos breed. If you have any sources of standing water in your yard or garden, be sure to drain them frequently.

Protecting yourself is important too! Mosquitos are busiest at dusk and dawn, so that's the time to wear long sleeves and pants when you're out, and to consider using insect repellant known to contain DEET. ## PTRC, QUINCY FARM VISIONING COMMITTEE AND ARTS COMMISSION STAY BUSY

The CHV Public Art Commission, coming off the tremendous success of a fundraiser at the Duncan Residence, is gearing up for the dedication of our newest public art installation at Happy Canyon and Quincy on a date to be announced soon. The PTRC is organizing the 2013 Annual Outdoor Movie Night on Saturday, August 24 and the Exotic Car Show on Sunday, September 15. The Cherry Hills Village Barn Tour has been rescheduled for Sunday, October 6, which will include tours of our own “barn,” the new Joint Public Safety Facility. The Quincy Farm Visioning Committee has been hard at work crafting a vision for Quincy Farm in the years ahead. Thanks to all our UNPAID VOLUNTEERS on the Council and all of our Commissions and Committees for their great efforts! Be sure to check our website (www.CherryHillsVillage.com) or our Facebook page (search: Cherry-Hills-Village-Municipal-Government) or KCHV-TV for all the latest updates!

Enjoy the rest of your summer!

absolute title to property at such a bargain price. (The Quincy Farm property owned by Cat Anderson is currently subject to a conservation easement and will at some date in the future pass to the Village for absolute ownership.)

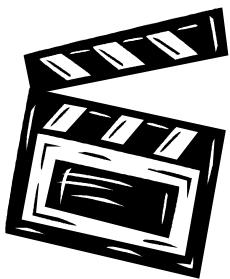

Mayor Doug Tisdale presided over the dedication ceremony and introduced the benefactors. The gift was made in July of this year and will provide a place where residents and guests may come together to rest, recreate, restore themselves, create good times, and make memories.

An element of the Alan Hutto Memorial Commons will be a small informal performance venue, made available to Village residents – and most especially to young people – so that they may hold performances and show off their talents. In one corner of the Commons, the City, with financial support from the Hutto Family, will lay a concrete pad 16 feet by 32 feet, “just large enough for a budding David Merrick or Bob Fosse to stage a performance intended for friends, family and interested patrons of the arts,” Mayor Tisdale explained. Situated in front of that performance venue will be a natural, open-air sloped grassy area suitable for seating such that the audience can bring a blanket and some refreshments to enjoy these productions.

“Alan Hutto had a passion for the performing arts,” Mayor Tisdale said. “In his nine years, Alan made a mark, blessed with an uncanny gift to live life to the fullest,” the Mayor continued. Alan was born with a life-threatening illness, to which he succumbed in 2006, while enrolled as a third-grader at Cherry Hills Village Elementary School. “His illness,” Mayor Tisdale said, “did not deter him from becoming a charming and engaging young man. Approaching the task with the enthusiasm and unbridled confidence that only the young at heart possess, he wrote, produced, directed, costumed and took the leading role in productions that he staged for friends and family.” That excitement is intended to live on at the performance venue in the Alan Hutto Memorial Commons.

QUINCY FARMS VISIONING COMMITTEE

by Karen Barsch

There is a beautiful farm in the middle of Cherry Hills Village called "Quincy Farms." It has fields, horses, barns, chickens and amazing views. You may have walked past it, either on your way up Quincy Avenue or south from Quincy Avenue on the High Line Canal and wondered how such a place can exist in the middle of a large metropolitan area. Since it does exist, you may have dreamed of being able to walk around its pond, have a picnic out in one of its fields or have someone there explain to you the art of raising chickens. What other possibilities does this magical place hold? That is the question that the Quincy Farms Visioning Committee has been asked to explore as a part of Cherry Hills Village's planning for the day that Quincy Farms becomes a public amenity owned by the City of Cherry Hills Village.

In 2007, Catherine Anderson generously conveyed the Quincy Farms property to the City of Cherry Hills Village, subject to a conservation easement and retaining a life estate on the property. The conservation easement requires that the City prepare a "management plan" for the property within one year after the life estate terminates. Thankfully, Ms. Anderson is still enjoying Quincy Farms, but in order to thoughtfully and fully prepare a management plan, the City believed it should allow for more than one year to prepare the plan. Towards this end, the City has taken two major steps. In 2011, the City obtained a planning grant from the Arapahoe County Open Space Fund to study Quincy Farms and its existing ponds, trees, vegetation and infrastructure. As a result, extensive reports have been prepared for the City regarding the infrastructure, trees and pond located on the Quincy Farms property. Then in October 2012, City Council directed the City's Parks, Trails and Recreation Commission (PTRC) to form a subcommittee to develop a vision and make recommendations for the future use, preservation and programming of Quincy Farms. Thus was born the Quincy Farms Visioning Committee.

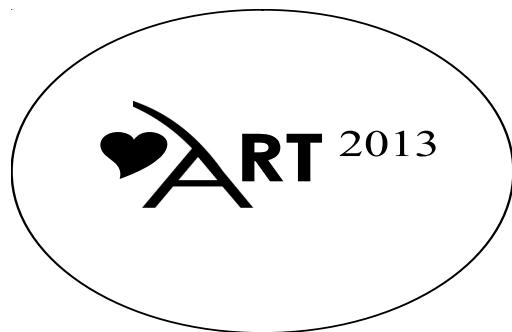

City Council directed that the Quincy Farms Visioning Committee be comprised of at least one member of City Council, at least two members of PTRC and at least three members of the community at-large. The members of the Committee are Charles Maguire, Chairman, Katy Brown and Klasina VanderWerf, City Council representatives, Jeff Ferrell and Karen Barsch, PTRC representatives and Jeff Welborn, Laura Christman, Harriett LaMair and Debbie Welles, community members at-large. In addition, using funds from the Arapahoe County planning grant, the City has hired Tina Bishop to act as a consultant to the Committee. Ms. Bishop is a principal with the firm of Mundus Bishop Design, Inc., a Colorado landscape architectural firm, specializing in planning and design of public spaces and cultural and historic landscapes.

QUINCY FARMS HAS THREE DISTINCTIVE COMPONENTS

The part of the farm located on the east side of the High Line Canal contains historic barns, a large barnyard and horse corrals. The western portion of the farm has historic houses, pastures, gardens and broad mountain vistas. The final component of the farm is the pond, located on the southern end of the farm, which serves as a natural habitat for waterfowl, shorebirds, hawks and neo-tropical migrants. The pond is the first verified and documented breeding site in Colorado for the Hooded Merganser, a beautiful hooded duck.

The Quincy Farms Visioning Committee has been asked by City Council to analyze the agreements and documents concerning Quincy Farms, review the current utilization of the farm, investigate allowed future uses and potential programs and to research costs and potential sources of financing for required improvements, maintenance and operation of the farm at such time as it becomes a public amenity. The challenge, and opportunity, for this property is to balance public access and programming, wildlife preservation and funding. The Committee and the City have the unique privilege to find ways to make the dreams of those who wander by Quincy Farms a reality. A report of recommendations for Quincy Farms is due from PTRC to the City Council by the end of the year.

A WINNING FORMULA

Mixing 83 Villagers, three talented artists, several dynamic speakers, a beautiful art collection and Sally and Ray Duncan was the winning formula for the Cherry Hills Village Art Committee's first fundraising event. Our thanks to the Duncans who graciously hosted a beautiful "Silver Oak" dinner party at their lovely home on June 23rd. Artists currently participating in the Public Art Program were introduced to the guests: Reven Swanson, Jessie Horton and Duke Beardsley. (Anthony Heinz May was unable to attend). Speakers included Mayor Doug Tisdale; Claggert/Rey Gallery Director Bill Rey; and Art Commission Chair Ann Columbus. The Art Commission grossed over $13,000. These funds will assist us in our mission to place more wonderful art in specific public places in the Village.

COMMISSION ALERT!

Colorado's own Duke Beardsley is busy creating a Western painting to be placed in the newly completed Village Center; it is a surprise GIFT to the Village. There will be a special reception to meet Duke and see his new work later this summer or early fall (more details on the event will be forthcoming). Duke, a fifth generation Coloradan whose western roots run deep, was raised in Denver and on a family cattle ranch in Eastern Colorado, all the while drawing and sketching the ranching scenes around him. He received an Art History degree from Middlebury College in Vermont and his formal training in the Arts at the prestigious Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, CA.

Duke's work has been featured in the Coors Western Art Show, the Buffalo Bill Art Show, the Charles M Russell Show, and the Colorado Governor's Invitational Art Exhibit. His work is collected worldwide and can be found in the Forbes Collections, the Denver Art Museum, the Booth Western Art Museum, and the Whitney Collection of Western American Art at Buffalo Bill Historical Center. Duke now lives with his family in Cherry Hills Village.

As members of the CHV Art Commission, we continue to be very busy and most grateful to all who support our efforts. Your comments and ideas are always welcome. Thank you! Ann Columbus, Chair; Teresa Harbaugh; Doug Smooke; Gay Warren and Klasina VanderWerf, Council representative.

CHERRY HILLS LAND PRESERVE HOSTS JOHN FIELDER

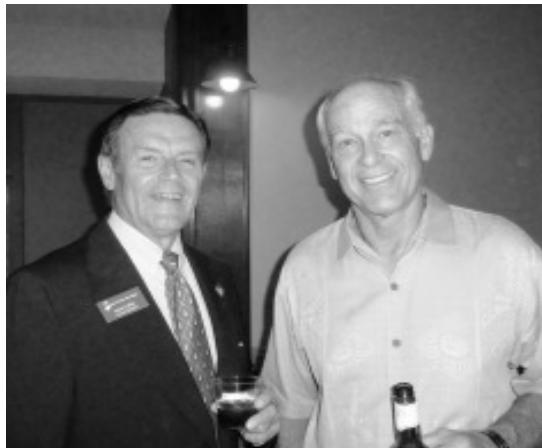

THE CHERRY HILLS LAND PRESERVE'S MISSION IS TO PRESERVE THE NATURAL OPEN LANDS IN CHERRY HILLS VILLAGE THROUGH LEADERSHIP, STEWARDSHIP, EDUCATION, AND ADVOCACY.

On June 24th, the Cherry Hills Land Preserve hosted residents at a presentation by photographer and conservationist John Fielder at the Village Club. John is currently touring the state attending events hosted by Colorado's land protection community and presenting a slide show entitled "Colorado's Great Outdoors: Celebrating 20 years of Lottery-Funded Lands."

John was a founder of Great Outdoors Colorado – GOCO – and was appointed by Governor Roy Romer to the GOCO board in 1993; he served two four year terms. In 2010 he approached the GOCO board to consider celebrating GOCO's 20th anniversary with the publication of a guide book: Guide to Colorado's Great Outdoors: Lottery-Funded Parks, Trails, Wildlife Areas & Open Spaces and a picture book, Colorado's Great Outdoors: Celebrating 20 Years of Lottery Funded Lands which depicts many of the places invested in by GOCO. The board partnered with him to photograph hundreds of county and city open spaces; wildlife habitat; state parks and wildlife areas; local and regional trails; community parks; ball fields and playgrounds; and private ranches. John drove 35,000 miles in less than two years from one end of Colorado to the other, and visited all of the state's 64 counties and practically every city and town in order to complete the project.

Fielder has had a 30 year career as a nature photographer and has worked tirelessly to promote the protection of Colorado's ranches, open spaces, and wild lands. His photography has influenced people, legislators, and legislation and has earned him recognition including the Sierra Club's Ansel Adams Award and the Aldo Leopold Foundations first Achievement Award given to an individual.

The talk and slide show on June 24th provided insight into the history of land conservation in Colorado, and Fielder's impressions of GOCO's accomplishments. More information about John Fielder and his work can be found at: johnfielder.com

DENVER WATER CHANGES WATERING RESTRICTIONS

Due to successful conservation efforts on the part of water users, water storage levels have greatly improved. Therefore, residents may now water one additional day if their landscaping needs it. This means the number of available watering days is three per week, if necessary. Also, there are no assigned watering days, but residents are asked to follow the rules listed at right and water wisely:

RULES FOR OUTDOOR WATER USE

- DO NOT WATER BETWEEN 10AM AND 6PM.
- WATER NO MORE THAN THREE DAYS PER WEEK (THERE ARE NO ASSIGNED DAYS).
- DO NOT WASTE WATER BY ALLOWING IT TO POOL IN GUTTERS, STREETS AND ALLEYS.
- REPAIR LEAKING SPRINKLER SYSTEMS WITHIN TEN DAYS.
- DO NOT WATER WHILE IT IS RAINING OR DURING HIGH WINDS.
- USE A HOSE NOZZLE WITH A SHUT-OFF VALVE WHEN WASHING YOUR CAR.

JOINT PUBLIC SAFETY FACILITY PHOTOGRAPH

A photograph of the new Joint Public Safety Facility by resident Tom White has been placed on the Village website www.cherryhillsvillage.com. Click onto "Police" to see the photograph.

The photograph of the Joint Public Safety Facility will be displayed both at the Village Center, the Joint Public Safety Facility and at the Colorado Municipal League Offices in Denver.

The photograph was taken by long time Cherry Hills Village resident Tom White. Tom is a professional photographer and an active member of the community. Tom has several other photographs displayed on the Village website (click on "Photos" to view more examples of his works).

The Joint Public Safety Facility is the result of a cooperative venture between the Village and the South Metro Fire Rescue Authority. Ground breaking ceremonies took place in late March 2012 and the building was completed in December 2013. The building houses South Metro's station #38 and the Village's Police Department.

The architect for the new facility was Roth Sheppard, and , was constructed by Adolfson & Peterson.

CITY REVAMPS PROCEDURE

The City Council approved a Bill that simplifies the procedure for review of proposed public recreational improvements on City property. The new process requires review by the Parks Trails & Recreation Commission and City Council only without Planning & Zoning Commission involvement unless Council requests P&Z advice.

The procedural change avoids unnecessary multiple meetings on the same topic, and allows P&Z to focus on zoning, setback and other larger issues without taking time on facility matters that are already covered by the Master Plan.

FROM PUBLIC WORKS

PLEASE WATCH YOUR MAIL -

- FOR A PUBLIC WORKS FACILITY REVIEW SURVEY

The City has contracted with Norris Design to conduct a Public Works Facility Review Study to determine the future of the Public Works facility that is currently located at the Village Center. As part of this study, Norris Design will be mailing information to residents asking for input through an online survey.

This survey, along with other information gathered through community meetings and needs assessments, will help Norris Design make a recommendation to City Council as to the most practical option for the Public Works facility's future location and configuration.

Residents will be able to access the survey by logging onto the City website: www.cherryhillsvillage.com. Residents will also have the option of requesting that a hard copy of the survey be mailed directly to them.

For any questions regarding this survey, please contact Pamela Broyles at 303- 783-2744.

PUBLIC WORKS ACCREDITATION

The Public Works Department has started the process for accreditation by the American Public Works Association (APWA). The purpose of the accreditation program is to verify and recognize public works agencies for compliance with recommended practices.

The Department is currently conducting a self-assessment to determine how its policies, procedures and practices compare to the recommended practices of nationally recognized experts. The APWA Director of Accreditation will be visiting the City to prepare staff for the review process and speak about the benefits of the program to City Council in August.
